

Before your session

You may wish to look at our 2 key website areas to familiarise yourself with information, in case parents ask you where to get help or what is available.

Suggested questions for a session to get people talking:

- What issues are parents currently facing?
- What would parents find helpful to know or have access to?
- What do parents find most difficult/frustrating about their situation?
- Are parents aware of the Parent Champions Group on Facebook, where they can talk to others in a similar position and share experiences?

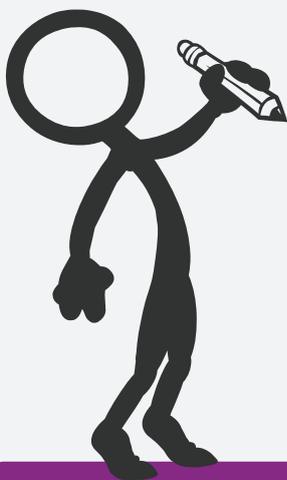

About Parent Champions

Parent Champions is a UK wide network of parents and carers of children with dyslexia and specific learning difficulties.

The purpose of each Parent Champions is to be the voice, ears and heart of the Dyslexia-SpLD Trust in the local community. The Dyslexia-SpLD Trust is a collaborative organisation whose 7 members are some of the leading literacy and dyslexia organisations in the country: Dyslexia Action, the British Dyslexia Association, Springboard for Children, Helen Arkell Dyslexia Centre, Patoss, Driver Youth Trust and Xtraordinary People.

A Parent Champion is not expected to be an expert on dyslexia (that's the role of the Trust and its member organisations), but is someone that parents or carers can chat to locally if and when they need support.

The Trust would like to spread the word to parents and carers about the free expertise and support available through the Dyslexia SpLD Trust and its member organisations. A bank of resources is available via the website, including; top tips and materials for supporting children at home and in school.

The Trust would also like to hear your feedback on what is working well and where there are gaps in provision. This information is vital as it means that the Trust can ensure that it is offering the best, most relevant and practical support that will really make a difference to you, the parents and carers.

If you would like to feedback information from your session to the trust, please do so at: social@parentchampions.org.uk
